Policy: Anonymity of Donors

According to the Gospel admonition of our Lord (Matthew 6:3):

But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth...

...the anonymity of donors will be followed at their request to the greatest degree possible. By this is meant that most certainly the Treasurer must know who gives and in what amount, as will the person who facilitates the gift (if this person is not the Treasurer). Additionally, those who are tasked with tracking gifts and writing thank you notes must be made aware of the gift and the giver as will the Rector for larger gifts. Other than these limited personnel, if the donor so requests, gifts will remain anonymous.
